

Biogeography and ecology: two views of one world

Papers of a Theme issue compiled and edited by David G. Jenkins and Robert E. Ricklefs

Contents

Introduction

- Biogeography and ecology: two views of one world 2331
D. G. Jenkins and R. E. Ricklefs

Articles

- The niche, biogeography and species interactions 2336
J. J. Wiens
- Disentangling the importance of ecological niches from stochastic processes across scales 2351
J. M. Chase and J. A. Myers
- How big should a mammal be? A macroecological look at mammalian body size over space and time 2364
F. A. Smith and S. K. Lyons
- The comparative ecology and biogeography of parasites 2379
R. Poulin, B. R. Krasnov, D. Mouillot and D. W. Thieltges
- Phylogeny, phylogeography, phylobetadiversity and the molecular analysis of biological communities 2391
B. C. Emerson, F. Cicconardi, P. P. Fanciulli and P. J. A. Shaw
- Advances, challenges and a developing synthesis of ecological community assembly theory 2403
E. Weiher, D. Freund, T. Bunton, A. Stefanski, T. Lee and S. Bentivenga
- Phylogenetic diversity as a window into the evolutionary and biogeographic histories of present-day richness gradients for mammals 2414
T. J. Davies and L. B. Buckley
- Old and new challenges in using species diversity for assessing biodiversity 2426
A. Chiarucci, G. Bacaro and S. M. Scheiner
- Biogeography and ecology: towards the integration of two disciplines 2438
R. E. Ricklefs and D. G. Jenkins
